Community Foundation of Greater Memphis

1987 Yearbook

THE MEMPHIS-PLOUGH COMMUNITY FOUNDATION
THE COMMUNITY FOUNDATION OF GREATER MEMPHIS

1987 Yearbook
Fiscal Year Ending April 30, 1987

While this Yearbook will focus on the activities of The Memphis-Plough Community Foundation, we want to introduce a new foundation, The Community Foundation of Greater Memphis, which will operate jointly with MPCF to make grants in the Memphis, Shelby County, Western Tennessee, and Northern Mississippi area. We expect that the Community Foundation will be the primary grant-making foundation and The Memphis-Plough Community Foundation will become a supporting foundation.

The Memphis-Plough Community Foundation (MPCF) was incorporated under the name of The Memphis Community Foundation and formed by Future Memphis, Inc. In 1973, Future Memphis organized a fund-raising campaign and secured the Foundation's operating money and one endowment. This endowment fund, the Moses and Julia Plough Endowment Fund, was formed by Mr. Abe Plough, in memory of his parents. To honor this gift and the memory of his parents, the Foundation's name was changed to The Memphis-Plough Community Foundation. The Foundation's assets were $166,636.

Since 1973, MPCF has increased its assets to $18.3 - Million. It has 131 donor funds, 3 unitrusts, and four 509 (a) (3) supporting foundations. Grants from these funds totalled $2,300,769.81 at April 30, 1987.

In 1986, MPCF formed the Community Foundation of Greater Memphis. Joining over 300 like foundations across the country, the Community Foundation will receive and administer charitable funds and evaluate changing needs to meet the problems of the future. A $4 - Million Endowment Campaign is currently underway to raise funds for the Community Foundation so that it can make significant grants.

In addition to making donor and unrestricted grants, the Community Foundation will take a leadership role in focusing on and analyzing community problems. In 1987, the Community Foundation received a $500,000 grant from the Ford Foundation's Leadership Program for Community Foundations. The Community Foundation will match the Ford grant two-for-one, raising $1 - Million from the community, and will focus on the problems of adolescent pregnancy for at least five years. An Adolescent Pregnancy Project office is located across the hall from the Foundation office and is headed by Project Director, Brady Henderson. The Community Foundation's Board will continue to look at community problems and designate funds to concentrate on a particular issue every three to five years.

The Foundation is funded by gifts from individuals, businesses, and organizations. Charitable gifts from donors are welcomed at any time. For information on making a charitable gift, contact the Foundation office at 1755 Lynnfield Road, Suite 249, Memphis, TN 38119, (901) 761-3806.

It is the Community’s foundation. Gifts from many donors are invested and administered to serve the community in accordance with the wishes of donors. The purpose of the Foundation as stated in the charter is “. . . To receive and accept property to be administered exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes primarily for the benefit of an area to include Western Tennessee, Northern Mississippi, and the vicinity thereof . . .” to recognize the need for foundation services beyond Shelby County.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

JOHN K. FOCKLER

The fiscal year ending April 30, 1987 has been the best year yet for The Memphis-Plough Community Foundation. Assets grew by more than 45% from $12.6 - Million to more than $18.3 - Million. A $500,000 grant from the Ford Foundation was received and will be used for a five-year project on adolescent pregnancy. MPCF also formed the Community Foundation of Greater Memphis to help alleviate the confusion over foundations which use the name "Plough": the Schering-Plough Foundation, the Plough Foundation, and The Memphis-Plough Community Foundation, separate entities having no inter-connection. The Community Foundation of Greater Memphis, otherwise known as the Community Foundation, will be the name by which our work and service to the community is known. Last, the Foundation's Board has committed to a $4 - Million Endowment Campaign for its Unrestricted Fund.

The 1986 Tax Reform Act increased the advantage of making charitable gifts before December 31, 1986. As a result, the Foundation received new gifts totalling $5.6 - Million during December 1986, the largest month for gifts in its history.

Changes made by the 1986 law should also affect giving in December 1987. The relative advantage of making a gift in 1987 instead of waiting until 1988 is greater than was the advantage of giving in 1986 over 1987. Thus, the Foundation hopes and expects that December 1987 will break the 1986 record for new gifts.

MPCF was one of eight community foundations which received a $500,000 grant from The Ford Foundation under its "Leadership Program for Community Foundations." In this program, Ford is encouraging these small community foundations to expand their leadership roles and grant-making capacity in their communities by building their Unrestricted Endowments and by attracting new donor gifts. MPCF must match that gift with $1 - Million of locally raised funds to be added to its endowment.

The five-year project is planned as a coordinating effort, bringing together agencies and organizations in the Memphis area which are working to solve the problems of adolescent pregnancy. Initially, a survey of programs addressing adolescent pregnancy will be conducted. While the survey is being completed, task forces will form to study particular problems surrounding this issue. Later, the task forces will review grant applications in the field of adolescent pregnancy and make recommendations to the Project Board.

The opportunities of the past year present new challenges the Foundation is eager to meet. We will continue to make grants and provide technical assistance to charitable agencies and look forward to working with other foundations, corporations, and donors to enhance the quality of life in our community.

HOW THESE FUNDS ARE HANDLED

The gift you give to establish a fund with The Memphis-Plough Community Foundation may be handled in one of the following ways:

Your gift of money, securities, or other tangible property may be given to the Trust Department of any of the six banks that have an agreement with the Foundation. These banks are: Union Planters National Bank, First Tennessee Bank, National Bank of Commerce, Boatmen's Bank of Tennessee, Commerce Union Bank, and First American Bank. Or you may give your gift directly to the Foundation for administration by the Board of Governors. In either case, the Board of Governors of MPCF exercises responsibility for overseeing the administration of your gift.

All gifts are fully tax-deductible. Real estate, securities, and other property are deductible at fair market value at the time of the gift. It will be to the greatest advantage to most donors to make gifts by December 31, 1987, when the maximum tax rates are lowered again. Therefore, immediate consultation with your accountant or tax advisor is important. The Foundation staff, attorney, and accountants will be glad to assist you in establishing a donor fund.

Donor fund grants supported the Foster Grandparent program and the Day Care Program at Porter-Leath Children's Center.

A Theodora Trezevant Neely Fund grant provided camperships for inner city boys to attend Camp Phoenix (Boy's Club camp) at Sardis, Mississippi. Other recipients of Neely camperships were L.S. Lawo Man-for-Boy, TN-ARK-MISS Girls Scout Council, and YWCA.

UNRESTRICTED FUND GRANTS

The following Unrestricted Fund grants were made during the Foundation's fiscal year, May 1, 1986 to April 30, 1987:

Alzheimer's Day Care, Inc.

Alzheimer's Day Care, Inc. provides a respite program for Alzheimer's victims and their families, sponsors a support group called Tender Loving Caretakers, publishes a newsletter, and provides a 24-hour counseling service. These services are provided by a small staff and volunteers. When the Foundation updated its computer system, it donated an Exxon word processing system to Alzheimer's Day Care to facilitate office operations and assist them in future growth.

Church Health Center of Memphis, Inc.

Preventive medicine and early treatment of disease is rarely practiced among the working poor. The Church Health Center of Memphis, a non-profit ecumenical clinic which opened September 1, 1987, will encourage working poor to seek medical treatment earlier and to practice preventive medicine. A $2,700 grant will fund the Center's Volunteer Health Care Program which will use volunteers as medical lay advisors in small communities and churches.

Volunteers will attend 10-week training sessions on topics such as hypertension, diabetes, congestive heart failure, and preventive medicine. They will then return to their churches and communities and advise their neighbors on simple medical problems, advocate healthy lifestyles, and encourage patient compliance with doctor's instructions. Lay advisors will have ready access to nurses and physicians of the Center for consultations and can refer people to the Center for medical treatment and preventive exams.

Down's Parents of Memphis, Inc.

The Special Kids program, a service of Down's Parents of Memphis, Inc., is an early intervention program serving children from birth to two years with developmental disabilities. A $6,000 grant provided start-up funds for this program which uses a family-centered approach to evaluate and develop an individual program for each infant while offering support and intervention training to parents. Programming is offered through an interdisciplinary staff which includes a nutritionist, physical therapist, speech pathologist, and social worker. Each session lasts twelve weeks and is offered free of charge.

Harbor House

Crisis calls to mental health agencies skyrocket each year during the holiday season. Many of these calls are from people experiencing Holiday "Blues and Blahs", depression, and stress; from those contemplating suicide; and from those recovering from alcohol and drug abuse. Harbor House in Tupelo, Mississippi, began a 24-hour intervention hotline during the 1986 holiday season to assist residents with these types of problems. A $471 grant was used to launch a media campaign of public service announcements and broadcasts to a service area of Mississippi, Tennessee, and Alabama.

Memphis Boys' Town

Individualized education programs are being provided to residents of Memphis Boys' Town, a home for abused and neglected teens, thanks to a $5,000 grant. Each youth is tested to determine his strengths and weaknesses in subject areas. Then, an individualized program is developed to allow him to proceed at his own pace to master skills and achieve goals. As skills are learned, emphasis is placed on how they can be applied practically. Students visit work sites, study a variety of vocations, and hear presentations from corporate executives.

Earlier in 1987, Memphis Boys' Town and Dogwood Village merged to form Youth Villages, Inc.

Memphis & Shelby County Council on Family Violence

1 out of 4 children will be abused or neglected.

1 out of 4 girls and 1 out of 8 boys will be sexually assaulted before the age of 18.

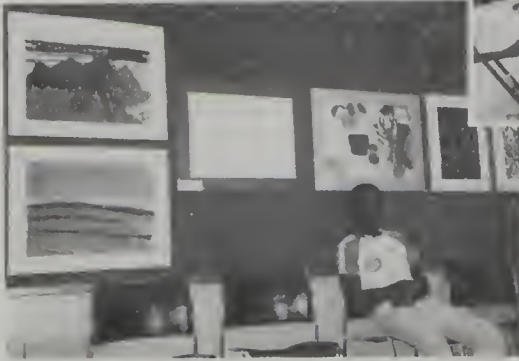

1 out of every 4 women is battered.

1.1 million elderly are abused or neglected each year.

The Memphis & Shelby County Council on Family Violence.

The Memphis & Shelby County Council on Family Violence was established as an information and referral agency on family violence with the help of a $5,000 "seed" money grant. Initially, the Council conducted a survey of agencies dealing with family violence, compiled a directory of those services, and identified service gaps. In addition to providing information and referral, the Council has an active Speakers Bureau and provides community education programs.

Very Special Arts Festival

Tennessee ACLD, Inc.

According to some studies, one out of every five children has a learning disability, usually an auditory or perceptual problem, that makes learning through traditional methods difficult or impossible. The Tennessee Association for Children with Learning Disabilities is working to raise parents' awareness of the frustrations their children face and to teach them how to bolster their children's self-esteem. A $4,000 Foundation grant will be used for a Parent Support and Education Program for those parents of learning disabled children. The eight-week "Good for Me!" curriculum developed by the Minnesota ACLD will show parents how learning disabilities affect learning and behavior, will teach positive interaction techniques, and will demonstrate how to foster self-esteem in these children and encourage them to believe in their abilities.

Very Special Arts Festival

Handicapped students attended four Saturday art classes at the Memphis College of Art with the help of a $3,000 grant. Working primarily with charcoal, pencil, and pen and ink, the students were introduced to the elements of design and encouraged to use their imaginations to interpret the world around them. The art classes proved to be fun as well as beneficial as the students' feelings of self-esteem and confidence increased and some students discovered promising artistic talent. At the end of the 4-week session, a reception highlighting their artistic achievements was held at the College of Art.

HOW TO APPLY FOR A GRANT

BACKGROUND

The Memphis-Plough Community Foundation serves Memphis, Shelby County, Western Tennessee, Northern Mississippi, and the surrounding vicinity. As a community foundation, MPCF can make Unrestricted Fund grants only to those organizations which are charitable and non-profit and hold an IRS 501 (c) (3) tax status, and which reside within these areas. Recipients of donor fund grants must also hold an IRS 501 (c) (3) tax status, but do not necessarily have to be located within the above mentioned geographic boundaries.

Unrestricted Fund grants are diverse and are not limited to one field of interest so that the Foundation can serve the community in all areas. These areas include: educational institutions, religious organizations, scientific and literary groups, health organizations, and charities.

GUIDELINES

Since the Unrestricted Fund is limited, the Foundation considers only those proposals which will benefit the areas it serves. The Foundation prefers not to fund those requests which are repetitive of past Foundation grants or which duplicate the efforts of another charitable organization. The Foundation is interested in "one-time" projects which need "seed" money to get started, and which would have a significant impact on the community.

Those requests which the Foundation does not consider for funding are:

- - Endowment, Building Fund, or Capital Campaigns;
- - Operating expenses - - such as, salaries, office equipment, supplies, and budget deficits;
- - Annual giving campaigns at educational, religious, medical and liberal arts institutions; or
- - Direct financial aid to individuals for scholarships, research grants, fellowships, medical bills, loans, or study grants.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES

1. An initial inquiry by letter or telephone is necessary to determine if the applicant's project fits within the Foundation's grant-making guidelines. If the Foundation's guidelines are met, a grant application and a copy of the Unrestricted Fund grant guidelines are mailed to the applicant.
2. The application must be completed and returned to the foundation office by the deadline date. Attachments to the application should include:

- Cover letter outlining objectives of project
- IRS tax-exempt letter, i.e. — IRS 501 (c) (3)
- Detailed program budget
- Current financial statement
- List of Officers and Board members
- Supplemental material supporting need for project

3. Requests are reviewed in June and in December by the Foundation staff, by the Grant Advisory Committee, and by the Board of Governors. The deadlines for completed grant applications are May 15th for the June Board meeting and November 15th for the December Board meeting. Applicants are notified of the Board's decision on the day following the Board meeting.
